The first line of this long paragraph is justified so that it spans the full text width of the page, which lets the test drag from its very beginning to the right edge of the page and expect exactly this line. The paragraph goes on with more ordinary words, because the selection should stop at the end of each line and never jump to the beginning or to the end of the page when the pointer leaves the text. Several lines are needed so that the gaps between them can be used too.

Last line on the first page

Second section

Text on the second page that follows the section heading.

Third page first line

Third page lower text
